TRINITY SUNDAY

1st READING	2nd READING	GOSPEL
EXODUS 34:4-6,8-9	2 CORINTHIANS 13:11-13	JOHN 3:16-18

Anecdote recounted by St. Augustine in
"The City of God".

It was around the year 415 and St. Augustine was walking along the beach on a bright, sunny day. He was frustrated, having taken a break from working on what's become known as one of his greatest doctrinal contributions to the Church, De Trinitate, or "On the Trinity." The subject matter had left him bleary-eyed – in need of fresh air.

It was in this moment, as the frothy tide rushed out, that a little boy caught St. Augustine's eye. The freckle-faced child had a determined, furrowed brow. He was clearly up to something, running back-and-forth, back-and-forth, between the sea and a tiny hole in the ground.

"My son," St. Augustine called over the crashing waves, "What are you doing there?"

The boy held up the pink shell he was using to move water, "I'm trying to fit that great big ocean into this tiny hole," he yelled, pointing assertively at the sand.

St. Augustine smiled, charmed by the child's innocence, his bright eyes, the way sunlight shone in his curly hair. He then followed the boy to kneel beside the tiny hole, watching him spill out a few meagre drops.

FAITH in 55 Words or Less.

The word "trinity" does not appear in Scripture, it is taught in Matthew 28:18-20 and 2 Corinthians 13:14, etc. The concept of the trinity can never be completely understood or rationalized, but it is clearly taught in Scripture.

Understanding of all scriptural doctrine is by faith which comes through the work of the Holy Spirit.

Anecdote recounted by St. Augustine in

"The City of God".

"My child," the bishop of Hippo broke the news gently, turning the boy's skinny shoulders to face the sea. He then spread his own arms wide, "You could never fit this great, magnificent ocean into that tiny hole!"

The child didn't flinch, but responded quickly: "And you could never possibly understand the Holy Trinity." Then in a flash, the boy disappeared.

Blessings, Fr Tony
